New Fillers for Wrinkles

New fillers for wrinkles have become available which are a major improvement over previous substances used to smooth out those wrinkles around your mouth and lips. One of these substances is called Restylane. Restylane is not made from cow skin and is completely compatible with human skin. This means there is no need for skin testing and no fear of allergic reactions and subsequent scars which were previously always a threat.

Better yet, the Restylane stays around longer and usually last at least six months if not longer, twice as long as collagen.

We now combine Botox with Restylane to smooth out those "time lines". Restylane has been available for the last eight years, so we have used it long enough that we don't worry about long term complications with its use. Over 1 million treatments in 60 countries have been performed.
